To: MONTANA CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

From: Revenue and Finance Committee

Ladies and Gentlemen:

The Revenue and Finance Committee submits herewith a proposed new Revenue and Finance Article which combines Articles XII, XIII and XXI of the present constitution. The proposed article is intended to replace all sections of those articles, removing some provisions entirely, condensed the language of other provisions, retaining the intent of some sections, and adding new revenue sections.

The members of this committee, by signing the majority report, do not necessarily endorse each and every statement contained therein; and minority reports on various sections are also presented in this report.

The committee utilized the testimony of many witnesses. It is also indebted to the delegates for the many proposals in the revenue and finance area.

The committee wishes to express its thanks to Roger A. Barber, its Research Analyst; Dennis Burr, its consultant from the Department of Revenue; Karen Holliday, its secretary; and Randall Gray, Blake Johnson and Edwin Shannon, its Student Interns.

Maurice Driscoll, Vice Chairman

INTRODUCTION

1 The delegates to the Constitutional Convention are 2 charged with rewriting the basic governmental structure
3 and legal document of the State. The guiding principle
4 during these deliberations has been a clean, simple
5 document, limited to those basic principles and doctrines 6 important enough to be frozen in constitutional ice. Some 7 committees, of necessity, had to come up with constitutional
8 articles. The Executive, Legislative and Judiciary Com-9 mittees had to establish the basic framework for those three 10 traditional branches of government. The Bill of Rights Com-11 mittee had to develop certain fundamental principles and 12 rights guaranteed to the people by their government.

13 The Revenue and Finance Committee approached its task
14 with a different attitude. From a pure, theoretical view-15 point, the constitution does not have to say a thing about 16 taxation. That suggestion was made to the committee on at 17 least two occasions. The reason is simple--the power to 18 tax is an inherent power of the state, a power already 19 possessed by the state without any grant of authority. Any-20 thing in a state constitution on the subject of taxation is 21 either redundant (reiterating a power already possessed by 22 the state) or restrictive.

23 The majority report contains provisions of both philo-
24 sophies. Some of the proposed sections simply state a 25 power already possessed by the legislature--but repeated
26 because of its importance to proper governmental operation 27 or to the protection of the people. Other sections were 28 specifically included to restrict the state's taxing or 29 revenue powers.

30 The majority report reflects the committee's approach

1 to its deliberations. Assigned three articles from the 2 present constitution--containing 42 sections--the committee
3 recommends a condensed, single article of only 14 sections.
4 Naturally, that means the committee eliminated or abandoned
5 many sections in the present constitution. For the conven-
6 ience of the convention, the following enumeration shows 7 what happened to those sections and why.

8 ARTICLE XII

9 Section 1. Eliminated. The state already possesses
10 the power to levy particular kinds of taxes and license
11 fees. The constitution does not need to list those tax
12 programs. The committee also did not feel that the con-
13 stitution should require taxation of all property.

14 For 80 years, the constitution required taxation of 15 all property. That mandate was difficult to live up to.
16 The reporting procedure utilized for taxation of household
17 property did not insure its complete taxation. Stocks
18 and bonds frequently escaped detection. The requirement 19 of complete property taxation often encouraged dishonesty.
20 The proposed article removes those problems--the legisla-
21 ture shall decide what property to tax and how to tax it.
22 The legislature may decide that other types of taxation 23 are more equitable and may reach kinds of property not 24 touched by the property tax now.

25 Section 1a. Eliminated. Again, it is unnecessary
26 to specify particular tax programs in the constitution.

27 The provision earmarking income tax revenues for 28 education and the general fund was removed for two reasons:
29 1) the committee wanted to avoid earmarking of funds as 30 much as possible, and 2) the present language does not

1 specify how much of the income tax revenues should go to 2 education. By statute, 25 percent of those funds are 3 presently dedicated, but technically, one dollar of the 4 total income tax revenues would satisfy the section 1a
5 requirement. The committee felt the earmark had little 6 force and was best eliminated.

7 Section 1b. Proposed section 6, with modifications, 8 covers this section.

9 Section 2. Proposed section 5, with some changes, 10 covers tax exempt property.

11 Section 3. Eliminated. The legislature should 12 determine methods and procedures for taxing minerals. The 13 cCommittee heard conflicting testimony on the most equitable 14 kind of tax to impose on metal mines, coal, oil and gas.
15 Therefore, the decision should be left to legislative deter-16 mination.

17 The committee recommends that the legislature give 18 serious consideration to retention of the present statute
19 providing for a net proceeds tax in lieu of the property
20 tax on minerals in place. The legislature has done a good
21 job of developing fair and equitable taxation of Montana
22 minerals. It should be given full discretion to continue
23 that program. The committee also recognizes the importance 24 of legislative flexibility to meet the needs of changing
25 times. If the legislature should decide that net proceeds 26 are no longer the best method of mineral taxation, it
27 should also remember the dislocation to local government 28 revenues that would be caused by such a change.

29 Section 4. Eliminated. The prohibition on state 30 aid to local governments is no longer justified. If the

1 legislature wants to assist local governments, it should be 2 free to do so and should not have to resort to subterfuge.
3 The legislature should not have to create artificial 4 loopholes, like the license fee system, to feed tax money
5 to local government units. That license fee exception
6 to the present state aid prohibition has caused trouble
7 for the legislature when it tries to establish a license
8 system; and troubles the courts when they must decide 9 whether the revenue program is really a license system.
10 The legislature has also tried to get around the prohi-11 bition by creating programs of a "state governmental 12 nature" such as the recent sewerage treatment aid program.
13 That concept is a nebulous creature, and may thwart 14 otherwise acceptable programs that fail to attain the 15 proper state government stature.

16 The question of local government taxing authority is 17 covered by the Local Government Committee. Nothing in 18 the proposed revenue article is meant to restrict the 19 legislature from granting taxing authority to local 20 governments or of local governments from having such 21 authority.

22 Section 5. The question of local government taxing 23 powers is covered by the Local Government Committee.
24 The second clause of this section is covered by proposed 25 section 4.

26 Section 6. The intent of this section is covered by 27 proposed section 2.

28 Section 7. The intent of this section is covered by 29 proposed section 2.

30 Section 8. This guarantee is already established in

1 the Federal Constitution, the supreme law of the land.
2 Repetition of the guarantee at the state level is unnecessary.

3 Section 9. The two-mill limitation on state property
4 taxes has been removed, primarily in an effort to comply
5 with the Serrano school finance case from California.
6 Although Serrano is not yet the law in the United States,
7 and a similar decision has not been upheld in Montana
8 courts, the constitution is not a document for today only.
9 The framers of this constitution must be forward-looking 10 and future-oriented.

11 The committee has heard conflicting testimony on the 12 Serrano case and its application to the Montana situation.
13 But the overwhelming weight of the evidence indicates its 14 applicability. The committee simply had to face the 15 possibility that Montana may have to levy a statewide prop-16 erty tax for educational purposes. That possibility was 17 strengthened by the acceptance of the Serrano doctrine
18 in Texas, Minnesota and New Jersey.

19 The committee was also concerned with the present
20 use of the two-mill statewide property tax levy. The levy 21 is used now as a backstop measure, imposed to bring in 22 additional revenues when other methods fail. Quite often 23 the decision to impose the levy is made for political, 24 rather than economic, reasons.

25 The intents of the four-mill livestock levy is 26 covered in proposed section 14.

27 Section 10. Eliminated. The intent of this section
28 is covered, in general terms, in proposed section 12.
29 Specifics are better left to the legislature, however.

30 Section 11. The first sentence is now proposed

1 section 1. The uniformity philosophy in the second 2 sentence was eliminated, primarily because uniformity of 3 taxation is already required of the states through the 14th
4 Amendment to the United States Constitution. The pro-5 viso also unnecessarily thwarts taxation programs, and 6 has caused considerable consternation in other states. The 7 Pennsylvania Supreme Court invalidated an inheritance
8 tax program as violative of the uniformity provision. The 9 Illinois uniformity clause was interpreted to prohibit a 10 graduated income tax in that state.

11 Section 12. The "balanced budget" philosophy of 12 this section is retained in proposed section 9.

13 Section 13. Eliminated. The intent of this section
14 is covered, in general terms, in proposed section 12.
15 Details should be left to the legislature.

16 Section 14. Eliminated. The intent of this section
17 is covered, in general terms, in proposed section 12. The 18 legislature should establish the procedures by statute.

19 Section 15. Property taxation procedures are covered 20 in proposed section 3--the state is now responsible for 21 appraisal, assessment and equalization. Provisions con-22 cerning the structure of the property taxation system are 23 better left to the legislature. Only that body can judge
24 the needs of future taxpayers, and establish procedures
25 that best suit those needs. It is unnecessary to freeze 26 such administrative detail in a constitution.

27 The committee does recommend a comprehensive review
28 procedure for Montana taxpayers in proposed section 7.
29 The recommendation establishes an appeal board separate 30 and distinct from the tax administrative agencies. Because

1 this independent appeal program is new to Montana, the 2 committee's recommendation on that part of the state tax 3 structure is relatively detailed.

4 Section 16. Proposed section 3 covers the assess-
5 ment of property. The detail in this section is no longer 6 necessary.

7 Section 17. Eliminated. The philosophy of the 8 proposed article on revenue and finance is faith in the 9 long-term judgement of future legislatures in matters 10 of taxation and finance. The legislature should enjoy the 11 flexibility necessary to create and develop equitable 12 tax programs. That assembly should not be limited to 13 particular approaches in raising revenue. The proposed 14 article does not require taxation of all property--and 15 consequently, makes no attempt to define that term.

16 Section 18. Eliminated. The legislative assembly
17 already possesses that power.

18 ARTICLE XIII

19 Section 1. The "lending of credit" proviso is 20 essentially a public purpose question. The Montana Supreme 21 Court has equated the two concepts in its numerous inter-
22 pretations of the "lending of credit" clause. Public 23 purpose is covered in proposed section 1. The remainder 24 of this section is concerned with government ownership of 25 corporate stocks and bonds. That concept is an investment 26 question, which is covered in proposed section 13.

27 Section 2. The new state indebtedness provision is 28 covered in proposed section 8.

29 Section 3. The intent of this section is covered in 30 proposed section 11.

1 Section 4. Eliminated. The committee felt that the 2 legislature should not be bound in this way. After much 3 consideration by the committee, it was concluded that if the 4 state were permitted to back local government bonds with 5 its (the state's) full faith and credit, the interest rates 6 on those bonds could be lower.

7 Section 5. Local government indebtedness is covered
8 by proposed section 10.

9 Section 6. Local government indebtedness is covered
10 by proposed section 10.

11 ARTICLE XXI

12 The committee is proposing an entirely new section on 13 investment of public funds, a short provision that com-14 pletely replaces all of Article XXI. That article is 15 outdated and obsolete. In fact, it has been largely 16 useless since its inclusion in the constitution in 1924.
17 As originally established; Article XXI created three per-18 manent revenue funds for the state to be funded by money 19 grants of at least $250. Those three funds have never 20 existed, principally because the interest from the funds
21 could not be distributed until the principal reached 22 ridiculously high amounts. ($100 million and $500 23 million). Benefactors to the state simply were not 24 willing to tie their money up in that way. Because of the 25 nonexistent nature of those three funds, all of the sec-
26 tions that refer to them in Article XXI are useless.

27 If the public school fund and other land grant funds
28 had not been added to the Trust and Legacy Fund in 1938, 29 the entire article would presently have no affect. But 30 that incorporation did give the article heretofore invisible

1 life. Treatment of the public school fund is already taken 2 care of in Article XI and the Enabling Act, however, so the 3 committee saw no reason to retain the constitutional 4 status of an otherwise hollow Trust and Legacy Fund. The 5 fund will not be eliminated entirely by its removal from 6 the constitution. It will still exist by statute.

MAJORITY REPORT

1 BE IT PROPOSED BY THE REVENUE AND FINANCE COMMITTEE:

2 That there be a new Article on Revenue and Finance to 3 read as follows:

4
5 ARTICLE _____

6 REVENUE AND FINANCE

7 Section 1. PUBLIC PURPOSE. Taxes shall be levied by general 8 laws for public purposes.

9 Section 2. SURRENDER CLAUSE. The power of taxation shall 10 never be surrendered, suspended, or contracted away.

11 Section 3. PROPERTY TAX ADMINISTRATION. Property which is 12 to be taxed shall be appraised, assessed and equalized by the 13 state in the manner prescribed by law.

14 Section 4. EQUAL VALUATION. The assessed valuation of 15 property to be taxed in any taxing jurisdiction shall be the 16 same valuation as the valuation for state and county purposes.

17 Section 5. PROPERTY TAX EXEMPTIONS. The property of the 18 United States, the state, counties, cities, towns, school 19 districts, municipal corporations, and public libraries may be 20 exempt from taxation, but any private interest in such property
21 may be taxed separately. Property used exclusively for educa-
22 tional purposes, places for actual religious worship, hospitals 23 and places of burial not used or held for private or corporate 24 profit, institutions of purley public charity, may be exempt
25 from taxation. Certain classes of property may be exempt
26 from taxation. The Legislative Assembly may authorize 27 creation of special improvement districts for capital im-28 provements and the maintenance of capital improvements and 29 the assessment of charges therefor, against tax exempt pro-30 perty directly benefited thereby.

1 Section 6. HIGHWAY EARMARK. Revenue, except from general
2 sales and use taxes, from excise and license taxation on gaso-3 line, fuel and other energy sources derived as a result of the 4 propulsion of vehicles on public highways, and gross
5 vehicle weight fees, shall be used solely for the payment 6 of obligations incurred for construction, reconstruction,
7 repair, operation, and maintenance of public highways,
8 streets, roads and bridges and for county, city and town 9 obligations on streets, roads and bridges, after the 10 deduction of funds for enforcement of highway safety, 11 driver education, tourist promotion and for administrative 12 and collection costs as authorized by the legislative 13 assembly. By a three-fifths vote of the members of each 14 house of the legislative assembly or by initiated measure 15 approved by a majority of the electorate, such dedicated 16 funds may be appropriated for other purposes.

17 Section 7. TAX APPEALS BOARD. The State Board of Tax 18 Audit and Appeals shall be composed of five members, who shall 19 be appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent
20 of the Senate (Legislative Assembly). The Legislative Assembly
21 shall divide the state into five districts as equal as 22 practical in population of citizens and a member of such 23 board shall be a resident of each of said districts. Each 24 member shall hold his office for a term of five years, and 25 until his successor shall have been appointed and quali-
26 fied. In case of a vacancy, the person appointed to fill 27 such vacancy shall hold office for the unexpired term in 28 which the vacancy occurs. The first five members appointed 29 to said board shall determine their respective terms by 30 lot so that a term of office shall expire each succeeding

1 year thereafter. Other qualifications, and salaries of 2 members, shall be as provided by law; provided, however,
3 that such members shall be so appointed that the Board 4 will not be composed of more than three members who are 5 affiliated with the same political party or organization; 6 provided, further, that each member shall devote his 7 entire time to his duties of office and shall not hold any 8 position of trust or profit, or engage in any other occu-9 pation or business, or serve on or under any committee of 10 any political party or organization or candidate for office, 11 and each member shall file with the Secretary of State, 12 annually, a full, detailed and complete disclosure of his 13 financial condition.

14 The State Board of Tax Audit and Appeals shall have 15 appellate jurisdiction of individual appeals of all
16 divisions of the administrative agency of the state
17 carrying out the provisions of Section 3 of this article 18 in order to insure that all taxes are administered accord-19 ing to law. Such individual appeals may be for the under-20 valuation and over-valuation and assessment of the appel-21 lant's property, or any other taxpayer's property. The 22 Board shall also have appellate jurisdiction of individual
23 appeals of other divisions of State and local agencies
24 related to license and excise taxation as may be provided
25 by law. The Board shall have the right to audit the State 26 administration agency to ascertain instances of under-27 valuation or over-valuation of property to be taxed and 28 publish its findings thereof. The Legislative Assembly 29 may prescribe by law other duties to be performed by such 30 Board and may provide that minor appeals, as defined by

1 law, may be adjudicated by a single Board member in the 2 county where the property is located, or the taxpaying 3 citizen resides, or as the case may be.

4 Section 8. STATE INDEBTEDNESS. No state debt shall 5 be created unless authorized by a three-fifths vote of the 6 members of both houses of the Legislative Assembly. State 7 debt cannot be created to cover deficits incurred when 8 appropriations exceed anticipated revenue during any 9 budget period.

10 Section 9. BALANCED BUDGET. Appropriations by the 11 Legislative Assembly shall not exceed anticipated revenues
12 during any budget period.

13 Section 10. LOCAL GOVERNMENT INDEBTEDNESS. The 14 Legislative Assembly shall enact limits of indebtedness
15 for subdivisions and districts of the state.

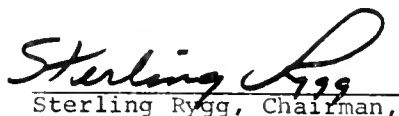

16 Section 11. USE OF LOAN PROCEEDS. All money borrowed 17 by or on behalf of the state, or any subdivision or district 18 of the state, shall be used only for the purpose or 19 purposes specified in the law authorizing the loan.

20 Section 12. STRICT ACCOUNTABILITY. The Legislative 21 Assembly shall enact the necessary laws to insure strict 22 accountability of all revenues received and money spent 23 by the state, subdivisions and districts thereof.

24 Section 13. INVESTMENT OF PUBLIC FUNDS. The 25 Legislative Assembly shall provide for a unified investment 26 program for public funds and prescribe the rules and 27 regulations therefor, including the supervision of invest-28 ment of surplus funds of all subdivisions and districts of 29 the state. The separate existence and identity of each 30 and every fund involved as a part of the unified investment

1 program shall be strictly maintained. An audit of the 2 investment program shall be conducted at least annually
3 and submitted to the Governor, Legislative Assembly and 4 Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

5 Section 14. AGRICULTURAL LEVIES. A special levy may 6 be made on livestock and agricultural commodities for the 7 purpose of disease control and indemnification, predator 8 control, livestock inspection and protection, agricultural 9 inspection and protection, livestock and agricultural 10 commodity research and promotion.

1 Section 1. Taxes shall be levied by general laws for 2 public purposes.

4 The broad language of proposed section 1 is meant to 5 replace the specific tax base provisions in present Article
6 XII. The new section speaks only of "taxes". Provisions 7 in the present constitution specify particular kinds of 8 revenue measures like property taxes, license fees, income
9 taxes and mining taxation. That kind of enumeration is un-10 necessary; the state already possesses the power to levy any 11 kind of tax it wants to. Enumeration of specific kinds of 12 tax programs is also unwise. Courts, as a rule of construc-13 tion, often hold that the listed measures or provisions are 14 in lieu of all unlisted measures. In other words, the list 15 tends to become exclusive.

19 The requirement of general laws for public purposes 20 extends to all tax programs, both state and local. Although 21 those two requirements are already imposed on the state by 22 the federal constitution, repetition in the state document 23 emphasizes their importance.

26 COMMENTS

- 16 -

1 legislative assembly. The power of taxation is the most 2 important power a governmental body possesses, and should 3 not be lightly dismissed or bargained away.

4 The provision is not intended to prevent the state from 5 delegating taxing powers to local governments. Nor is this 6 section meant to deprive the legislature of its discretion
7 to tax or not to tax or exempt classes of property.

8 Section 3. Property which is to be taxed shall be 9 appraised, assessed, and equalized by the state in the manner
10 prescribed by law.

11 COMMENTS

12 This new section is a progressive change from present
13 taxation provisions. It embodies the committee's recommenda-
14 tion on property tax administration, which was previously 15 set out in great detail in present section 15 of Article
16 XII. That old section, which established a two-tier system
17 of assessment, equalization and review, would be replaced
18 by a state-level system of appraisal, assessment and equali-
19 zation. The details of that property tax system are not 20 spelled out, again a departure from the specificity of 21 present section 15. The details of any tax administration 22 system should be left to the legislature, which is best
23 qualified to develop the most efficient, modern and fair
24 system necessary for the needs of the day. Tax administra-
25 tion should be established by the legislature and adminis-
26 tered by the executive branch of government, not by a 27 constitutional board which is immune to control by all 28 three branches of government and immune from control by 29 the people. A constitutionally enshrined board is less 30 answerable for its activities and is freer to ignore the

1 mandates and directives of the legislative assembly.

2 Property appraisal and property tax assessment and 3 equalization must be conducted by a state agency, however.
4 The committee heard reams of testimony concerning the 5 inadequate job of assessment and tax equalization in the 6 state. The intent of the committee is that this change 7 will establish qualified, professional appraisal and 8 appraisal procedures, and will insure the equalization of 9 taxes across the entire state.

10 Hopefully, the inequalities that presently exist
11 within taxing districts and between taxing districts can 12 be avoided if accountability is in some state agency.
13 Testimony also leads the committee to believe that 14 pressures and temptations for under-valuation and under-15 assessment presently exist at the local level. The 16 current operation of the school foundation program
17 encourages under-valuation of local property. When such 18 under-valuation exists, the state pours in more money for 19 educational purposes.

20 Hand-in-hand with the concept of a professionalized,
21 responsive tax administrator is the need for independent 22 review of the administrator's actions. The committee has 23 created the machinery for that review function in its 24 proposed Section 7. That proposal is a sharp change from 25 the present constitutional tax administration structure
26 which combines both the administrative and adjudicating 27 functions in one agency. True equity requires the 28 separation of those responsibilities.

29 The need for statewide administration of the property
30 tax was probably brought into sharpest focus by the torrent

1 of testimony on Serrano v. Priest. If the state has to 2 go into funding of governmental programs, particularly 3 education, through a statewide property tax, the need 4 for efficient, equitable appraisal and assessment will be 5 intensified.

6 Section 4. The assessed valuation of property to be 7 taxed in any taxing jurisdiction shall be the same value-
8 tion as the valuation for state and county purposes.

9 COMMENTS

10 The proposed section is similar in language and intent
11 to present section 6 of Article XII. The provision guar-12 antees that property will be assessed at the same value, 13 despite the government that is levying the tax. In other 14 words, property will be taxed at the same assessment for 15 state, county or school district purposes. A school dis-
16 trict cannot assess at a higher value. Such "equal" valu-17 ation between local governments is so important, the 18 committee feels, that it should be guaranteed in the con-19 stitution.

20 Section 5. The property of the United States, the 21 state, counties, cities, towns, school districts, municipi-
22 pal corporations, and public libraries may be exempt from 23 taxation, but any private interest in such property may 24 be taxed separately. Property used exclusively for edu-
25 cational purposes, places for actual religious worship, 26 hospitals and places of burial not used or held for 27 private or corporate profit, institutions of purely public
28 charity, may be exempt from taxation. Certain classes
29 of property may be exempt from taxation. The legislative 30 assembly may authorize creation of special improvement

1 districts for capital improvements and the maintenance
2 of capital improvements and the assessment of charges
3 therefor, against tax exempt property directly benefited
4 thereby.

5 COMMENTS

6 The proposed section on property tax exemptions is 7 different in at least four ways. Most of the present
8 property exemptions are retained--agricultural and horti-9 cultural societies and mortgages are deleted. Those 10 classes of property could be exempt from taxation if the 11 Legislature so required. Deletion from the constitutional 12 listing does not remove them from potential tax exemption.
13 The new section permits taxation of private interests in 14 government-owned property, closing a loophole in the present
15 constitution. The proposed provision also permits assess-
16 ment of special improvement district charges on tax-exempt
17 property. The constitutionality of such charges is presently 18 in doubt, although many such assessments are paid annually
19 on tax-exempt property. The new provision simply legitima-20 tizes that practice.

21 The most important change in the proposed section is 22 the non-exclusive nature of the tax exempt list. Unlike 23 the present constitution, the proposed article on Revenue
24 and Finance does not require that all property be taxed.
25 The proposed provisions are silent on the subject, leaving 26 the scope and nature of taxation programs up to the 27 Legislature. Property may be taxed or may be exempted by 28 the Legislature. The permissible list of exemptions is 29 not exclusive. The legislature may add to the list.
30

Section 6. Revenue, except from general sales and use taxes, from excise and license taxation on gasoline, fuel and other energy sources derived as a result of the propulsion of vehicles on public highways, and gross vehicle weight fees, shall be used solely for the payment of obligations incurred for construction, reconstruction, repair, operation, and maintenance of public highways, streets, roads and bridges and for county, city and town obligations on streets, roads and bridges, after the deduction of funds for enforcement of highway safety, drivers education, tourist promotion and for administrative and collection costs as authorized by the legislative assembly. By a three-fifths vote of the members of each house of the legislative assembly or by initiated measure approved by a majority of the electorate, such dedicated funds may be appropriated for other purposes.

COMMENTS

The proposed section on earmarking of funds for highway purposes is similar to present section 16 of Article XII in most respects. Three substantial changes have been made in the scope and effect of that old section, however:

1.) The amount of money earmarked for the highway fund has been changed. The old section dedicated funds from fuel taxes, gross vehicle weight fees registration fees and fees on the sale of new cars. The proposed section only earmarks gasoline and fuel taxes, and gross vehicle weight fees.

2.) The permissible uses of highway earmarked funds have been expanded to include local government road and street systems, highway safety programs and

1 driver education programs. The removal of the 2 state aid to local government restriction insures that 3 these road funds can be used to finance local govern-4 ment road and street systems. The legislature will 5 now be free to make direct grants to local governments
6 instead of developing complicated bookkeeping devices
7 to get around the prohibition.

8 3.) The funds are not dedicated from now ad infinitum,
9 or until repeal by amendment or by another Constitu-
10 tional Convention. The proposed section permits 11 diversion of the earmarked funds to other purposes if 12 each house of the Legislative Assembly by a three-13 fifths majority, approves such expenditure. In other 14 words, the primary responsibility for review, assess-
15 ment . . . and eventually, allocation . . . of highway
16 funds rests with the Legislature. That body is free 17 to change the earmark.

18 The Committee felt that retention of the anti-diversion
19 amendment was necessary at the present time. The amendment 20 is a recent addition to the constitution, overwhelmingly 21 approved by the voters in 1956. A large amount of Federal 22 matching money is still pouring into the state to finance 23 the interstate system and the local primary and secondary 24 highway systems. Extensive testimony indicates its 25 exclusion may well jeopardize the final product of this 26 Convention.

27 The committee was also concerned with the proper use 28 of gasoline and motor fuel tax revenues. Those taxing 29 programs were originally created to benefit the state
30 highway system. The committee felt that original purpose

1 should be maintained. The committee realizes that the time
2 may come when highway funds are no longer needed, at least 3 not at the level of current programs. In that case the 4 gasoline and fuel taxes should perhaps be allowed to diminish.
5 The committee would hate to create another situation like the 6 cigarette tax, which was originally set up to fund programs
7 and benefits for veterans. That tax has now been moved to 8 fund the Long Range Building Program and the General Fund.
9 In an effort to encourage the elimination of the gasoline 10 and motor fuel taxes when their usefulness is up, the 11 committee has tried to strengthen legislative control and 12 allocation over highway funds.

13 Section 7. The State Board of Tax Audit and Appeals
14 shall be composed of five members, who shall be appointed 15 by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the 16 Senate (Legislative Assembly). The legislative assembly
17 shall divide the state into five districts as equal as 18 practical in population of citizens and a member of such 19 board shall be a resident of each of said districts. Each
20 member shall hold his office for a term of five years, and 21 until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified.
22 In case of a vacancy, the person appointed to fill such 23 vacancy shall hold office for the unexpired term in which 24 the vacancy occurs. The first five members appointed to 25 said board shall determine their respective terms by lot
26 so that a term of office shall expire each succeeding year
27 thereafter. Other qualifications, and salaries of members, 28 shall be as provided by law; provided, however, that such 29 members shall be so appointed that the board will not be 30 composed of more than three members who are affiliated with

1 the same political party or organization; provided, further, that 2 each member shall devote his entire time to his duties of office 3 and shall not hold any position of trust or profit, or engage in 4 any other occupation or business, or serve on or under any committee 5 of any political party or organization or candidate for office, and 6 each member shall file with the Secretary of State, annually, a full, 7 detailed and complete disclosure of his financial condition.

8 The State Board of Tax Audit and Appeals shall have 9 appellate jurisdiction of individual appeals of all divisions 10 of the administrative agency of the state carrying out the 11 provisions of Section 3 of this article in order to insure 12 that all taxes are administered according to law. Such 13 individual appeals may be for the under-valuation and over-14 valuation and assessment of the appellant's property, or 15 any other taxpayer's property. The board shall also have 16 appellate jurisdiction of individual appeals of other divi-17 sions of state and local agencies related to license and 18 excise taxation as may be provided by law. The board shall 19 have the right to audit the state administration agency to 20 ascertain instances of under-valuation or over-valuation of 21 property to be taxed and publish its findings thereof. The 22 legislative assembly may prescribe by law other duties to 23 be performed by such board and may provide that minor 24 appeals, as defined by law, may be adjudicated by a single 25 board member in the county where the property is located, 26 or the taxpaying citizen resides, or as the case may be.

27 COMMENT

28 The committee realizes the importance of a short 29 document. The introduction to this report emphasized the 30 committee's concern for brevity and clarity. But this

1 proposed Section 7 creates a new protection for the Montana
2 taxpayer, an independent tax appeal board. Because the 3 provision provides a new right, the structure, function and 4 jurisdiction of the board are spelled out in some detail.

5 The present section is proposed for a new con-
6 stitution because it establishes a guarantee never provided
7 for Montana taxpayers. Under the present tax administration 8 program, the same governmental bodies (County Boards of 9 Equalization and State Board of Equalization) that establish 10 revenue policies and procedures also sit in judgment on the 11 implementation of those procedures. Overwhelming testimony 12 to the committee indicates that the procedure does not 13 guarantee an independent, non-partial, objective review of 14 tax decisions. The Montana taxpayer needs some avenue of 15 recourse, besides the tax administrator or the courts, to 16 evaluate his tax treatment. The proposed section accomplishes 17 that objective by establishing an independent review procedure.

18 The constitution should not specify details of tax 19 administration. Present Section 15 of Article XII of the 20 Montana constitution creates an elaborate method of property 21 tax administration for the state, and demonstrates the 22 futility of including such detail in a constitution. When 23 the constitution was written in 1889, property taxes were 24 the sole source of revenue for the state. But like the 25 framers of 1889, this convention cannot foresee all the 26 changes in the state's revenue structure. The details of 27 that revenue administration should be left to the legisla-
28 ture, which can evaluate changes and create the best 29 structure to administer revenue programs.

30 Section 8. No state debt shall be created unless

1 should not be free to thwart the "balance budget" intent
2 of proposed section 9.

3 Section 9. Appropriations by the legislative assembly
4 shall not exceed anticipated revenues during any budget
5 period.

6 COMMENTS

7 This proposed section is similar in effect to present
8 section 12 of Article XII. It requires the state to operate 9 under a "balanced budget" philosophy, but establishes that 10 doctrine in much simpler language. Although the state may 11 have trouble operating in the black, since it can only 12 estimate the amount of revenues coming in any budget period, 13 this section requires the legislative assembly to stay with-14 in those estimated limits when it appropriates funds.

15 Section 10. The legislative assembly shall enact 16 limits of indebtedness for subdivisions and districts of the 17 state.

18 COMMENTS

19 This proposed section leaves the question of local 20 government indebtedness, and limits on that indebtedness, 21 up to the legislative assembly. This broad grant of 22 authority is utilized because of the uncertain nature of 23 any fixed debt limitation.

24 The legislature should be free to encourage economic 25 development in local government units. The history of the 26 last 80 years indicates that the legislature has been 27 frugal in empowering local government indebtedness. The 28 proposed provisions restores that control. The proposed 29 section would leave the legislature free, if it so decided,
30 to pledge the full faith and credit of local government units

1 to back indebtedness. Such a pledge should result in 2 lower interest rates and a savings to the people of 3 Montana.

4 Section 11. All money borrowed by or on behalf of 5 the state, or any subdivision or district of the state,
6 shall be used only for the purpose or purposes specified
7 in the law authorizing the loan.

8 COMMENTS

9 This section is practically identical to Article
10 XIII, Section 3. The section guarantees accountability 11 and proper management of borrowed funds, and should 12 prevent misuse or diversion of that money. The section is 13 self-explanatory and is an important guarantee for the 14 people.

15 Section 12. The legislative assembly shall enact the 16 necessary laws to insure strict accountability of all
17 revenues received and money spent by the state, subdivisions
18 and districts thereof.

19 COMMENTS

20 The proposed section, though broad in scope, covers 21 the same ground as the present detailed sections 13 and 22 14 of Article XII. It also conveys the intent of "specific 23 appropriations" required by Section 10. The importance of 24 accountability for state revenues is not diminished--indeed, 25 that rationale is given constitutional status in this 26 proposed section. But the details of accounting, procedures, 27 deposits, cash flow, reporting requirements, etc., have to 28 be left to the legislative assembly. The constitution simply 29 cannot anticipate changes in the accounting and monetary 30 fields. The computerized techniques presently utilized by

1 the state were beyond the wildest dreams of the 1889
2 framers. The need for detailed and consolidated reporting
3 information also was not anticipated. The present con-
4 stitutional provisions on deposits, cash flow and reporting 5 are not adhered to.

6 The committee recommends that the legislature take 7 immediate steps to establish unified accounting procedures
8 for all governmental units in the state. Though statutory 9 in nature, the committee feels the importance of such a pro-
10 gram is essential to proper accounting and data functions.

11 Section 13. The legislative assembly shall provide 12 for a unified investment program for public funds and 13 prescribe the rules and regulations therefor, including the 14 supervision of investment of surplus funds of all sub-
15 divisions and districts of the state. The separate existence 16 and identity of each and every fund involved as a part of 17 the unified investment program shall be strictly maintained.
18 An audit of the investment program shall be conducted at 19 least annually and submitted to the governor, legislative 20 assembly and chief justice of the supreme court.

21 COMMENT

22 The proposed section on investments replaces all of 23 Article XXI in the present constitution. Most of the 24 provisions in that article are obsolete--in fact, if the 25 public school fund had not been added to the Montana Trust
26 and Legacy Fund in 1938, the article would have no effect 27 whatever. The proposed section stresses the importance of 28 a unified investment program for public funds. Such a 29 program has been sought in Montana since 1924, and has only 30 recently been accomplished through Executive Reorganization.

1 The committee feels that the importance of unity, professional 2 treatment and supervision of public fund investments should 3 be stressed at the constitutional level. Because public
4 money is such an important trust for the people of Montana,
5 the investment program should be audited at least annually.

6 The sentence on separate identity of funds in the 7 public fund investment program was added to insure proper 8 distribution of interest to the individual funds. Although 9 public funds should be invested as a unit to insure a larger 10 return, the interest from that unified program should be 11 distributed on a pro rata basis, depending on the size of 12 the individual funds. The "separate fund" sentence should 13 insure that distribution.

14 The regulation and limitation of the investment program,
15 and the administrative structure of the investment program,
16 is left up to the legislative assembly.

17 At least two restrictions on the investment program
18 will remain in force in the constitution. Those provisions, 19 in Article XI and the Enabling Act, deal with land grant 20 money.

21 The legislature is best equipped to make decisions
22 concerning investment opportunities for state money. The 23 obsolete nature of Article XXI illustrates the futility
24 of trying to proscribe an investment program and investment 25 details at the constitutional level. The scope of the 26 legislature's supervision should also include surplus funds
27 at the local level. Although the legislature may well 28 leave the handling and investment of such funds in the 29 hands of local governments, its supervisory powers will 30 insure their careful handling and treatment.

Section 14. A special levy may be made on livestock and agricultural commodities for the purpose of disease control and indemnification, predator control, livestock inspection and protection, agricultural inspection and protection, livestock and agricultural commodity research and promotion.

COMMENTS

The proposed language retains the intent of section 9 regarding livestock mill levies, and expands the permissible list of industries and uses for such a state-wide levy. The levies are not a pure earmark. They are more of a bookkeeping and accounting procedure.

The provision, in explicit terms similar to present section 9, is no longer necessary. The uniformity clause has been removed from the proposed Article; and the state-wide property tax limit has also been deleted. But the importance of agriculture to the Montana economy should not be underestimated--in fact, it should be emphasized.

The committee also thought it should encourage taxpayers who are willing to bear the burden of a tax to improve the economic future of their industry.

3 BE IT PROPOSED:

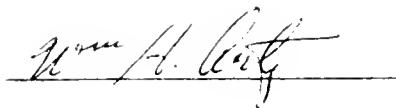

4 That the following be substituted for Section 5 of 5 the Majority Proposal entitled "Property Tax Exemptions":

6 The property of the United States, the state, counties,
7 cities, towns, school districts, municipal corporations, and 8 public libraries may be exempt from taxation, but any private 9 interest in such property may be taxed separately.

10 Property used exclusively for educational purposes;
11 places for actual religious worship; hospitals and places of 12 burial not used or held for private or corporate profit; 13 institutions of purely public charity, household goods and 14 furniture, wearing apparel, and other personal property used 15 by the owner for personal and domestic purposes; cash and 16 accounts receivable; dwellings and personal property of 17 totally service-connected disabled veterans; dwellings used 18 for residential purposes; evidences of debt secured by 19 mortgages of record upon real or personal property in the 20 state of Montana; the stocks of any company or corporation
21 when the property of such company or corporation repre-
22 sented by such stocks is within the state and has been taxed,

1 COMMENTS

2 The minority report is in complete disagreement with 3 all references in the rationale of the majority report 4 stating that all property may be exempted from tax by the 5 legislature. We have faith in the legislative process but 6 are of the opinion that this is "opening the door too wide."
7 In our opinion, as upheld by court decisions, only the items 8 of property listed above are eligible to tax exemption by 9 the legislative process.

10 We agree that it is easier to enforce collection of 11 taxes on some property than it is on other property but 12 cannot consider this as a sufficient reason for removal of 13 this type of property from the tax rolls. The Internal 14 Revenue Service has developed procedures for ferreting out 15 income from cash transactions. We submit that the tax de-
16 partment of Montana should be able to develop adequate 17 techniques despite the fact that local government author-18 ities have been negligent for many years.

19 We also submit that tax equity requires that if certain 20 income producing property is taxed, then all income producing 21 property should be taxed. It is not equitable to tax $10,000 22 of equipment which produces income subject to income tax and 23 at the same time eliminate $10,000 of investments (e.g. tax-24 exempt securities) the income of which is not subject to 25 income taxes.

26 We also submit that if the legislature should acquies 27 to pressures to eliminate stock and bond investments from 28 property taxation because of the so-called problems of 29 assessment a severe injustice will be imposed on lower in-30 come citizens to the benefit of more affluent citizens.

1 We cannot imagine the delegates of the Convention condoning
2 such an inequity.

3 We justify the addition of the following items to the 4 permissive list:

5 1) Household goods and furniture, wearing apparel,
6 and other personal property used by the owner for personal 7 and domestic purposes:

8 a. Recommended by Delegate Felt proposal #161.

9 b. Testimony received indicated that costs of 10 collections are in many instances equal to tax received.

11 c. Property does not produce income.

12 2) Cash and accounts receivable.

13 a. Recommended by Delegate Felt proposal #161.

14 b. Not necessarily income producing.

15 c. We agree that the term accounts receivable 16 is very broad but have confidence that the legislative 17 assembly in its wisdom will develop legislation that will 18 not violate the underlying principle that all income pro-19 ducing property should be subject to property tax if any 20 income producing property is subject to property tax.

21 3) Dwelling and personal property of totally service-22 connected disabled veterans.

23 a. The committee had testimony that there are 24 approximately 99,000 veterans of which approximately 387
25 would be eligible for this tax relief.

26 b. We submit that this tax exemption is certainly 27 justified when the mental picture of what total disability is 28 is considered.

29 4) Dwellings used for residential purposes.

30 a. Dwellings do not produce income.

1 b. It is realized that the elimination of 2 dwellings from the tax rolls could cause a terrific upheaval
3 in revenues produced from property taxes on the local level.
4 This is a decision which has been left to the judgment of 5 the legislature by the permissive nature of this section.

6 5) Evidences of debt secured by mortgages of record
7 upon real or personal property in the state of Montana.

8 a. Eliminates double taxation.

9 b. Contained in Article XII, Section 2, of 10 current constitution.

11 6) The stocks of any company or corporation when the 12 property of such company or corporation represented by such 13 stocks is within the state and has been taxed.

14 a. Eliminates double taxation.

15 b. Contained in Article XII, Section 17, of 16 current constitution.

22 COMMENTS

23 We submit that criteria for investment of public 24 trust funds should be more stringent than the criteria for 25 investment of private funds.

26 We believe that priorities should be in this order:

27 1) Security.

28 2) Funds should be invested in Montana as much as 29 possible.

30 3) Return on investment.

1 Much of the testimony presented indicated that emphasis
2 was being placed on return on investment rather than security.
3 As an example: "You don't find the big red apples next to 4 the trunk of the tree--you find them near the end of the 5 limb." We are opposed to gambling with state funds and 6 taking a chance that the limb might break.

7 Testimony has been offered that the stock market will 8 act as an offset to inflation. We offer that money invested 9 at 5 3/4% for 12 years can double.

10 The following communication was received from a large 11 organized group of citizens: "We confess a lack of expertise 12 in suggesting adequate safeguards in the constitution to 13 govern the legislature on drafting liberalized investment
14 laws. We do see danger inherent in such liberalized laws 15 and hope that committee deliberations and convention de-16 bate will develop 'behind the record' guidelines for the 17 legislature to follow in liberalizing the investment laws
18 regulating the investment of public funds."

19 We feel that the pressures exerted on the committee
20 to permit investment in the stock market will be continued 21 indefinitely unless our restriction is incorporated in the 22 constitution. Therefore, with a deep concern for the 23 safety of present and future public trust funds, we earnestly 24 recommend that favorable consideration by the delegates be 25 given to this minority report.

26 We also wish to bring to your attention that ownership
27 of voting stock of a private corporation constitutes govern-28 ment ownership of private property--a form of socialism. We 29 also question the propriety of the state voting the stock of 30 a private corporation for a variety of obvious reasons. But

1 foremost is the risk involved in trusting our state funds to 2 the caprice of a volotile market. It is with these consider-3 ations in mind that we reject the majority proposal and submit 4 the above minority proposal.
